Christa McClintock and Angie Wolbers celebrate Christmas with the Gamma Phi Delta Sorority at the Ground Round. The Ground Round is a popular hangout for U.D. students — particularly because of the free peanuts and popcorn. The $.99 unlimited refill sodas also make it an added attraction for the tight budget of a typical college student.

U.D. students can be found here every night of the week watching their favorite sporting events on the big screen t.v. in the sports bar or doing last minute cramming with classmates. Whatever the occasion, the Ground Round serves as an affordable option for students to meet with friends, staff and faculty.

International students are usually found in the basement of Cassat Residence Hall on Sunday evenings cooking ethnic foods from their home countries. The aroma can often be smelled throughout the hall and up to the fourth floor. Just another facet of the international spirit evident at the University of Dubuque.

On this particular day they were preparing food for the international fair. Students look forward to the opportunity to share their culture and cuisine with others.

Roommates, Candace Stender and Mary Jo Nowachek take a few minutes to debate whose engagement ring is bigger. The two women have been roommates for the past two years in Aitchison Residence Hall. Their strong bond of friendship was not even interrupted when Candace was selected as a resident assistant. She chose to continue to have Mary Jo as her roommate even though resident assistants are given a single room as part of their compensation packages.

Candace will marry U.D. student, Eric Everts in October 1994 and Mary Jo will marry her high school sweetheart, Cary, this summer in Wyoming, Iowa.

Students were able to purchase a chance for $25 and the winners were announced at the Homecoming pep rally. The event is a great opportunity to get back at fellow students, faculty, and staff during the homecoming festivities.

"Pie-in-the-Eye" is an annual fund-raiser for the Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity. Maureen Lake, Nan Rebholz, Connie Bandy-Hodge, Wendi Pitzo, Bucky Zietz, Matt Jacobs, and Jon Vande Wolde were selected as the 1992 recipients this year. We salute the good sportsmanship of these individuals and their willingness to help APO.

Junior, Mindy Wieland bids a tearful good-bye to her friend and roommate, "Britty" at the December graduation ceremonies. Mindy was truly fortunate to develop her friendship with Britty. It has added a new dimension to her U.D. experience.

Perhaps Rock island, Iowa will not be listed as one of the top ten most exotic places, but it was a very exciting place for Britty. Mindy's family welcomed Britty into their home and invited her to learn American family customs firsthand. Although Britty has returned to Taiwan to continue her nursing career, she hopes to someday return to the United States. In the meantime she will keep in close touch with the Wieland family as they await her return.

Junior, Andy Ferguson and friend, Christa McClintock plan their next resident assistant program. One of their most notable programs was "Let's Talk About Sex". It was probably the most well attended program this year. Hmm-the 90's are definitely a very interesting time to be a college student. Wonder what the hot topics will be in 2093?

Junior, Rob Peterson and senior, Joe Pavlik attempt to escape from the Washington Zoo. Perhaps they were mistaken for a zoo inhabitant ... Rob, Joe and three other U.D. aviation students attended the aviation conference in Washington, D.C. during the winter break in January 1993. Faculty member, Ted Rebholz accompanied the students to the conference. While they were in D.C., they learned additional information regarding FAA guidelines.

Juniors, Jill Thompson and Breck Woodard find a free "Kodak moment" at the SLICE leadership conference in Platteville, Wisconsin to clown around with sophomore, Coleen McMahon. All three serve on the Student Activities Board which programs activities for the entire U.D. student body.

The SLICE leadership Conference is sponsored jointly by the University of Dubuque, Clarke College, Loras College, and the University of Wisconsin-Platteville through leadership grant funding. Students spend an entire day learning about leadership issues through workshops and speakers.

Rolanda is very active in Professor, Dr. Mohammad Chaichian's Community Service class which provides many volunteer opportunities with local care centers for the elderly. Rolanda also served as a spokesperson for television commercials featuring U.D. and Kennedy Mall. Her most recent television appearance featured the 1993 Wellness Fair in the Stoltz Sports Center.

Junior attendants, Tatiana BonumadosSantos and Steve Tesar pose for a picture during the 1992 Homecoming Dance. This years theme was Color My World. The attendants were announced at the pep rally on Friday night in the cafeteria. Junior students voted during the week to select Tatiana and Steve.

Junior, Michelle Bader enjoys her time on the APO teeter totter during the 24 hour teeter totter marathon to raise money for March of Dimes. APO students solicited pledges and then signed up to teeter totter throughout the night. The teeter totter was set up on the quad just beside Algona street. The local press covered the event and featured the marathon on the evening news.

During the night the Disney movie, Ferngully was shown to the participants as they attempted to stay warm. Fall temperatures dropped and the teeter totters sped up their motion to combat the chilling night air.

Making a Difference

December 27th through the 29th marked the biannual convention of the national service fraternity, Alpha Phi Omega, in Boston, Massachusetts.

As voting delegates of UD's chapter, Pi Beta, Todd Matthew Miller and Claire Ingles attended the convention which was the largest APO convention ever held. They participated in workshops, served on committees, and voted on legislation which involved certain aspects of their national bylaws, rituals and creeds. When they weren't busy with legislation they attended banquets or dances that went on long into the night.

"It was hard work with long, sleepless nights, but it was a lot of fun and I didn't regret going for one minute," recounted sophomore, Claire Ingles. "The most memorable highlight was when the 3,000 plus attending members formed our fellowship circle and sang our toast song. The feeling was indescribable. Everyone treated each other like old friends the first time we were introduced. It made me think more of our Cardinal Principles of Leadership, Friendship, and Service, and it gives me hope that the common person can make a difference."

Claire and Todd returned to UD's APO chapter and shared their experiences from the conference with their fellow brothers. Both recommended that everyone attend future conventions because of the fun they had.

Sophomores, Amy Staskal, Janel Batten & Tara Bliven take a moment to ponder the "meaning of life" during college. The three women are seated on the infamous bleachers at the "Field of Dreams" movie site just outside of Dyersville, Iowa. Portions of the movie in which Kevin Costner starred, were filmed on the U.D. campus. Most of the footage took place in the library and a few scenes featured Van Vliet Hall.

Several students and the football team also participated in Upper Deck's fantasy baseball weekend held annually over Labor Day in Dyersville. Featured stars this year included Reggie Jackson, Meatloaf, Cheers' "Frazer", and Mark DiCarlo from the hit t.v. show "Studs".

Andy Olson, sophomore, attempts to fly like "superman" and soar across campus ... maybe we should tell him about the great aviation program at U.D.

Sophomores Sophomores

Sophomore attendants, Shannon Murphy and Tim Felderman dance the first dance featuring the 1992 Homecoming Court in the ballroom at the Julianne Inn. The music was provided by Scorpio productions and included top 40 hits. Shannon was a member of the 1992 Homecoming committee that helped plan and decorate for the dance. This year's theme "Color My World" featured four foot blow up crayons throughout the ballroom. Definitely a favorite for souvenir hunters longing to take home a memento of the evening.

Sandy Harrison and Coleen McMahon, sophomores, take a few minutes to discuss plans for the 1993 Wellness Fair. Friend Coleen has just talked Sandy into wearing a cow costume and advertising the event in the cafeteria. This years Wellness Fair theme was Capturing Our Wellness (C.O.W.) Student bartenders entertained the crowd with exotic ice cream drinks. The specialty of the day was a "Brown Cow" float. Sandy and Coleen deserve the "Good Sport" Award for dressing in cow costumes ... only in college.

Freshman women, Angie Beauchamp, Shannon Holdroyd, Stephanie Atkinson, Shannon Hovis, Shannon Rose, Heather Lullmann, and Sunshine BenBelKacem gather to produce a Fun Flicks video featuring Madonna's hit tune, "Like a Virgin." The event was sponsored by S.A.B. and 58 videos were produced during the 6 hours event.

Wise, sophomore, Tara Bliven convinces freshman, Jody Eaton that all of the football players are shaving their heads ... now Tara be kind. Poor Jody traveled all the way from Florida to attend U.D. "Now Jody this is all the rage these days in Dubuque ..." Wonder what Jody's mom will say.

Adjusting to College Living Space

As first year students, moving into a residence hall can be quite an experience. The greatest problems were not getting the feel for our college courses nor was it finding time to experience our new found freedom; it was deciding what to pack and finding out about your roommate.

So, should I take all of my room or just some of it? Did we need to bring a phone? Should I bring all my clothes or just seasonal ones? Underwear. Do I have enough underwear to last a couple of week so I don't have to do laundry? Stapler, bed sheets, towels, pencils, photographs, shoes, and the list just continues to go on and on. Of course you really didn't want to tell your parents that you might need a UHAUL just to move you into a 15'x20' room.

Then after you had the packing situation figured out, you had to find out what kind of roommate you would be living with for a year. Though a lot of living situations did not work out, some did. Sunrise Hill said, "Ang (Nelson) and I have been best friends since we became roommates and we didn't even hate each other at the beginning. We were one of the luck few and we'll probably remain close friends for life." Even if you did not get along with your roommate, there are many other advantages to living in a residence hall. Your friends are close by, you have a better chance to get more involved in campus activities, and independence from your parents.

Living in the halls is a great experience for first year students. It can mean a lot of fun and produce many memories for many years to come.

Freshman roommates, Sunrise Hill & Angie Nelson became best friends in spite of all the uncertainties new roommates experience. Sunrise and Angie are confident that they will beat the odds and remain friends.

The APO team works hard to prepare themselves for the 3-Legged Race, while others look on during the Games on the Quad.

Spectators anxiously watch the races and activities that are held annually in the Games on the Quad during Homecoming Week.

Homecoming '92 made its debut October 9-11, and included traditional, yet exciting events. This year's theme, "Color My World", proved to be anything but dull. The Homecoming Committee, consisting of Angela Ndubi (chairperson), Crystal Morgan, Rolanda Johnson, Stephanie Ramer, Stacey Svoboda, Shannon Murphy, Antoinette Squires, Erin Broughton, Kris Fettkether, Bruce Malone, and Charmain Jackson, joined forces to eventually come up with a fun-filled and exciting program. In addition to the Homecoming Banquet with performances by the Collegiate Singers, dance at the Julien Inn, and football games against the Upper Iowa Peacocks, students were kept busy with many other planned activities. These activities included Games on the Quad, a banner competition, Pie-in-the-Eye contest and Pep Rally.

Games on the Quad, headed by chairman Bruce Malone, consisted of a volleyball tournament, mattress carry, gunny sack three-legged race, and leapfrog. As the games carried on through the afternoon and gradually came to an end, the Gamma Phi Delta's and Mu Sigma Beta's emerged victorious with a tie for first place.

The annual Banner Contest took place over the week leading up to Homecoming weekend in the cafeteria. Many different creations were hanging from their separate beams. After being admired (and criticized) for several days, the winning banners were announced with the Athenaeon fraternity in first place; Alpha Phi Omega and Zeta Phi tied for second place.

The biggest highlight before the big game was the Pep Rally. Held in the evening inside Peters' Commons, much spirit and enthusiasm filled the air as the football team was introduced. Also present was the Pep Band, under the direction of Dennis Williams, the cheerleaders, and, of course, the student body. As the night's activities progressed, various contest winners were announced, including the Homecoming Court. The Pie-in-the-Eye Contest also took place amidst the pep rally turmoil, and left victims Maureen Lake, Connie Bandy-Hodge, Wendi Pitzo, Bucky Zietz, Matt Jacobs, Nan Rebholz, and Jon VanderWolde with messy clothes and whip creamed faces.

The Greeks all share a common bond, lasting friendships, and many wonderful memories. Over the past couple of years, the Greek system has become more unified as a "System", and has gotten away from the "stick with your own" mentality and at U.D., the Greeks are one big happy family.

Athenaeon

The Athenaeon's are students which encourage greater brotherhood, insure personal development, promote liberal social opportunities, and cause greater service to our fellow students. The Athenaeon's (A's) were founded in 1922 from a local fraternity brought to Dubuque from USC. The A's are primarily students involved with the athletic programs at U.D. but certainly not limited to them.

The Mu Sigma Beta Fraternity was founded on the University of Dubuque campus in 1939. For the past 41 years, the members of the fraternity have taken an active role in campus and community events. The brotherhood of the fraternity promotes fellowship and aids the social well-being of all its members. The Mu Sigma Beta Fraternity also promotes the continued contact with members and alumni who have since left the University of Dubuque. Yearly activities include a Halloween and Christmas party first semester and the annual pig roast highlights the second semester. Each year at Thanksgiving, they organize a canned food drive with their sister sorority, Gamma Phi Delta, and donate the canned goods to the Catholic Charities of Dubuque.

At one time they were known as Phi Sigma Kappa, a national fraternity, but due to the high cost of national affiliation, in 1989, they decided to drop their national affiliation, and changed their name to Phi Sigma Tau. They currently boast ten dedicated members. They do several community service activities, as well as sponsor several social events, throughout the year.

Phi Omicron

The Phi Omicron fraternity has had a long and glorious stay at the University of Dubuque. The Phi O's were founded in 1926, and has proudly worn green and orange ever since. They are involved with many campus activities as well as their own "Graffiti Party", and an end of the year bonfire and steak fry.

They are proud of their close bonds with the other two fine sororities, and enjoy working with them for their two jointly held parties each year. Also, they have a Christmas party and an end of the year Graduation party, as well as car washes, raffles, community service, and a Spring Formal. Their traditional colors are dusty rose and mint green, but the worn colors are red and white. Their flower is the Russell Rose and a fish is their pledge mascot.

Music and Drama

The music and drama departments play an important role in allowing students to have the opportunity to showcase their talents to their peers as well as to the public. Mr. Williams is the head of the music department and is the director for the Pep Band, Collegiate Singers, and the Dubuque Chorale; with Sharmen Thuren leading the drama department, the two are able to come together once a year to put out a musical for the school and public to enjoy.

The Pep Band, under the direction of Mr. Williams, braves the cold weather to play for all the home football games and is responsible for getting the crowd involved in all the home basketball games. The Pep Band varies from 10-12 members and is always welcome to new students at anytime. Many of the participants have had music experience for many years and this provides them an opportunity to show their talent. With groovin' songs and rockin' members, the Pep

Collegiate Singers and Drama Color's the World for the University

The Collegiate Singers are made up of College students on Music "scholarship" and other interested, talented undergraduates. Directed by Dennis Williams, the Singers perform at a wide variety of University functions, such as Opening Convocation, Homecoming, Chapel Services, Baccalaureate, Honors Convocation, and Commencement. In addition, they are the University "ambassadors" and perform at high schools throughout the Tri-State area during the year. The annual Dessert Pops concert in April is a popular event for both the University community and families of the performers.

Macabre

This production was a collection of stories that was told in a dramatic, yet sultry way. It was held in Alumni Hall, with the simple background being red, black, and grey, and a grand piano and couch provided the props for this production. The cast members, dressed in black, used their trained techniques to tell these stories with great enthusiasm and suspense. This production was different in that it had a small cast of characters and offered to the University population something different than the normal, upbeat play.

The stars of "Babes in Arms", Heather Lullman and Jeff Olsen, hold each other in realization that a possible backer will come and see their performance.

"Babes in Arms"

The musical production of "Babes in Arms" is about a struggling company of young performers hoping to put together a performance to attract a wealthy backer. This musical had the ability to put together popular songs such as "My Funny Valentine" and "I Wish I

Were in Love Again" with a humorous and warm storyline.

U.D. Athletics

The University of Dubuque Athletics is rich in tradition since beginning in 1852. The Spartans proudly represent the school colors of Royal Blue and White in the Iowa Intercollegiate Athletic Conference and is affiliated with the NCAA Division III. U.D. offers many students the opportunity to get involved with athletics whether it be in golf, wrestling, basketball, or tennis and to support their peers during the athletic competition.

Oooohhhh ....A-C-E!!

The 1992 Spartan Women's Volleyball team had more than their share of "aces" this year. A great recruiting job by second year head coach Connie Bandy Hodge and assistant coach Dennis Rima brought in an abundance of talent. Such assets include the team captains, Stacey Gassman and Deb Young, who were both familiar with successful volleyball programs and were eager to help build such a program at U.D. Also new to the program are freshmen: Amy Meyer, Jyll Smith, Amanda Dickson, Caialee Casey, and Cindy Berthel. Returning to the program were Tara Bliven, Cecelia Tello, Kathie Nero, and Amy Staskal. With a roster of players, Coach Hodge was able to field both a junior varsity and a varsity squad. This combination of new faces and old blood worked very well for the Spartan volleyball team.

At the end of the year, the Spartan Volleyball team record was 18-22 with some of the most memorable wins coming against Coe College, Buena Vista College, Clarke College, and Grinnell College at the Spartan Invitational. Though this may not have been their best year, captain Stacey Gassman put it into perspective by saying, "Considering that all of us never played together before, we played really well. Next year we'll be tough or as Coach says-CRISP!!"

Men's Tennis

Head coach, Kurt Pasko best described the season as a season of "dreams come true" because of the great generosity of many alumni. The team received new warm-ups, a ball machine, had their best finish in the Iowa Intercollegiate Athletic Conference since 1962, and was able to take their first trip to Florida over Spring Break. While in Florida, the competition was tough, but the experience gained there began to shape the team and build the unity and commitment necessary to produce the best season that they have ever had.

Women's Tennis

The tennis season for the women was a mixture of triumph and despair, peak performance and injury, laughter and tears. Tonia Ricke was elected Team Captain and though she was hampered by a congenital foot problem, she led the team to their best season ever. Kim Bothelo, a team substitute because she had other commitments, tragically fell and broke her ankle at the Simpson College Invitational, but did not let that get her down and supported her team even though she could not be out there on the court with them. As his last year as head coach, Kurt Pasko made it a point to teach his players that it is important that they play their best, but not be the best and it was obvious that he had taught his team just that.

"Let's Go U.D.!!"

The season began with a new exciting group of women ready to help cheer on the Spartan Football team. The squad consisted of one returning cheerleader, and five new freshmen. To lead the freshmen was captain Kris Fettkether and co-captain Lisa Hartman. The other members that made up the squad were Shannon Holroyd, Jeanne McIlwaine, Stephanie Chan, and Ann Kirkpatrick. The cheerleaders did their best to get the crowd involved in the football games and found that budgeting school with going on long away game trips was difficult, but by supporting each other, they were able to cheer the Spartans on to victory. They also joined the Pep Band in leading the school song and other cheers. GO-FIGHT-WIN!!!

The University of Dubuque Football Team

The highlight of the season came in the very first game of the year when the Spartans won the season opener against non-conference rival Graceland College 19-6. After that, the Spartans suffered nine consecutive losses and went 0-8 in the always tough IIAC.

Chris Hyland was the only Spartan to be ranked in any statistical category in the conference, finishing 6th in total offense in the conference, amassing 11142 yards in total offense for a per game average of 142.8 yds./game.

Men's Basketball

The men's team fell just short of the conference title, losing their last three games in the conference to Loras, Luther, and Simpson to finish the season 10-6 in the conference and 15-10 overall.

Larry Jackson had a conference season high 32 points in a game against Luther on 2/25/93 and on that same night Isaiah Johnson had a conference season high and a career high 22 rebounds. Jackson was the leading scorer in the conference for the Spartans averaging 13.6 ppg.

Charlie Anderson and Johnson finished 3-4 in the conference in rebounding with Anderson averaging 8.2 rpg. and Johnson 8.1 rpg.

Bruce Malone was selected to first-team all-conference and Larry Jackson was selected to second-team all-conference. Congratulations on a job well done!

Lady Spartan Basketball

Coach Jay Schiesel and Assistant Coach Hammond led the "young" lady Spartans through a tough rebuilding year. Everyone on the team started with freshman status except for Senior, Mary Jo Nowachek. Even with Mary Jo's leadership, she spent most of the season benched with injuries. Where the team lacked talent and playing time, they made up for it with heart and desire. Definitely a team of scrappers, they beat Upper Iowa University in conference play. It proved to be one of the most exciting games of the season. Playing to a crowd of University of Dubuque fans who traveled to Upper Iowa compliments of Bud Loates graciousness, the Lady Spartans overpowered the Peacocks.

Another team highlight was a trip to St. Louis, Missouri in which the Lady Spartans traveled to a number of private schools to play ball. Sophomore, Janel Batten, fondly remembers playing in the gym that resembled a barn. The halo bleachers were definitely a memorable event of the trip.

Throughout the year freshman, Angie Rieniets emerged as the leader of the team. Although everyone started to improve and be more comfortable playing, it came too late in the season. The good news is that it prepared us for the 1993-94 season and a much more experienced team.

Imagine a team with three new coaches and seven new players. Now add a little softball to this team and try to play through rain storms. If ever there was a rebuilding year in Spartan sports, this was the case for the 1993 women's softball team.

New to the program this year were head coach Chris Boike and pitching coach Dennis Smith. A strong group of freshmen included Jyll Smith, Tricia Malson, Stacey Peterson, Nikki Vanderkooi, Cindy Berthel, and Beth Shepard. Returning sophomores consisted of Janel Batten, Tara Bliven, Betsy Baldwin, Angie Tocci, Amy Staskal, and Wendi Pitzo. The only junior was Gina Nuzzo. Vicki Moore returned to the softball program as an assistant coach after using her four years of eligibility as a caliber short-stop.

The Spartan women had to battle with obstacles far out of their control. For instance, they were trapped for two days in Chattanooga, Tennessee upon their return from their Spring Break Florida trip. Mother Nature further hampered the ball season by consistently soaking the diamond with several inches of rain before several games. Despite the fact that the weather was uncooperative, the team gave every effort they had to win. This inexperienced team kept coming a few runs short however, they improved one hundred and ten percent since their first game of the season in Florida.

December Commencement

Renewing a past tradition, the University held a December Graduation Recognition Ceremony on Thursday, December 17 at 2pm in Blades Chapel. All mid-term graduates processed with Faculty and were honored at a reception following the granting of degrees. Blades Chapel was filled to "overflowing" with family and friends of the graduates.

In Memorium ...

In December, 1992, the University community was saddened by the tragic death of Huey Yun (Maren) Chen in an automobile accident on Hwy 61. Maren, a senior Taiwanese Nursing student, was on her way to a Clinical when the car in which she was riding hit a patch of ice and skidded broadside into an oncoming vehicle.

This tragedy rallied the entire campus in support of Maren's friends and teachers. Her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Chen, traveled from Taipei to Dubuque within days of the accident and were overwhelmed by the support and sympathy of all with whom they came in contact. The Taiwanese Nursing Students planned and presented a touching Memorial Service in Blades Chapel, honoring their friend and classmate.

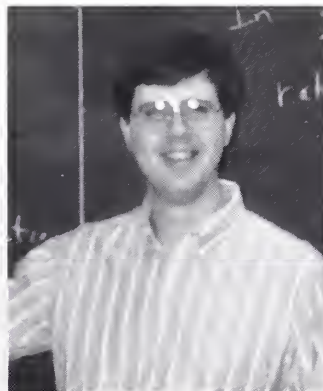

At the December Graduation Recognition Ceremony, Maren's diploma was awarded posthumously.

From the Editor ...

Well, it is finally finished and published and now it is in your hands to look at and read. I hope you enjoy this yearbook, but also understand that there were some unforeseen circumstances that prevented this book from getting to you earlier. Without the last minute, over Spring Break help from Nan Rebholz, I would never have been able to finish this project-thanks Nan, I owe you one!! Wendi, if you didn't start this book, I would have never of finished it-thanks for showing me the ropes last year. I would also like to thank Mike Deunser for his articles that helped me out so much, the 1993-94 yearbook staff that helped to finish this and of course thank the yearbook advisor, Jacqui Haus. Once again, I hope you enjoy this yearbook and look at it as a collection of memories and events that played a significant importance in your college life.
